

Customer Care/Solutions Provider

Full time

Courier Solutions are different. We are not couriers – we are courier distribution managers.

We make it our business to source the very best solutions for our clients from a pool of national and international suppliers.

We answer the phone in person – every time.

We provide the most professional, efficient and complete distribution service in New Zealand today.

It's about punching above our weight.

We have an opportunity available for a dynamic individual who wants to be part of an elite team of people, who are focused on exceptional customer interaction, relationship building, superior customer service and business growth.

We need someone who arrives at work every day with a bounce in their step and a goal to achieve more than the previous day. Our existing team is highly motivated and competitive to ensure that they play active roles in helping the business grow and exceed expectations – would you thrive in that environment?

The ultimate objective of the position is to provide world class, second-to-none customer service.

You will have a proven history in providing exceptional customer solutions, a high level of interpersonal skills, good geographical knowledge, a mature and professional attitude, and you will know how to have fun!
